

All Accomplishments - Top

College

Sophomore Year:

- being able to start majority of games as left defender and gaining more respect from teammates
- deciding to be a psychology major and minor in business
- deciding to get an MBA
- deciding to go abroad second semester junior year
- taking managerial communications class and learning to present well
- deciding to take social psych just because I was interested in it and it was not a requirement
- researching and talking to people about finding an internship for the summer , creating resumes and cover letters
- deciding to explore the east coast more by visiting my high school friends at Bucknell in winter and taking road trip to NYC in April
- taking financial accounting even though it is not something I am going to go into after college
- being dedicated to get at least at 3.25 so I can do 5th year and also go abroad junior year
- volunteering with soccer team at local elementary school

Freshman Year:

- playing on the varsity women's soccer team
- making good friends and a best friend
- experimenting with all different kinds of courses (a.k.a. history, international development, communication and culture)
- volunteering at boys and girls club

All Accomplishments - Top

High School

Senior Year:

- making a portfolio to apply for one of editors of school magazine and creating my own position as “short sections” editor
- researching colleges extensively and applying to 18 of them and getting into 11 of them
- finishing with a 3.55 GPA, even though I had to take a lot of math and science

Junior Year:

- joining school magazine
- winning Columbia Journalist award for an article
- promoting myself to colleges for soccer
- doing club soccer tournaments throughout junior year
- beating the top high school team in the area to win fall soccer tournament

Sophomore Year:

- winning $15,000 scholarship award
- starting as defender for high school Varsity team

Freshman Year:

- making varsity soccer team as freshman (one of only two freshman on team)
- making high level soccer club team
- becoming best friends with someone who I didn't know before 9th grade
- finding good group of girls within first month of school
- working really hard at soccer and school
- joining special small “school within the school” program

All Accomplishments - Top

Middle School

8th Grade

- running after soccer practice to improve my endurance
- learning to be creative and writing stellar essays and poems in 8th grade humanities class
- going to Mexico with 8th grade class and trying hard to improve my Spanish there

7th Grade

- passing 1,000 juggles mark with the soccer ball
- going to Mountain Camp for two weeks before going into 8th grade
- becoming best friends with two girls on my soccer team
- starting own business, "Down2Earth" with two of my classmates and going through whole process of making business plan, making products, and presenting to board of investors

6th Grade

- deciding to focus on soccer and stop competitive swimming
- having really tough coaches as my coaches during middle school, never would have been the soccer player I was today without them
- playing basketball at my private middle school, would not have played at much larger public middle school
- going to summer camp on an island with two friends from elementary school the summer before going into 7th grade